Traders Library Awards George Fontanills with Trader's Hall of Fame Award

Chicago, Il., May 6, 2006 — Traders Library, the exclusive distributor for Marketplace Books, awarded George Fontanills, President Emeritus of Optionetics, with the Trader's Hall of Fame Lifetime Achievement Award at the OptionsXpo in Chicago on May 4th and 5th 2006. John Boyer, Vice President and Head of Operations for Marketplace Books, presented the prestigious honor upon Fontanills.

The Trader's Hall of Fame Lifetime Achievement award was created in 2001 to recognize the contributions of educators and traders to the field of options trading, technical analysis, or trading systems and strategies. This contribution can be earned through a number of ways, including the development of exceptional analytical software or trading systems. Individuals are also selected for their excellence in overall trading performance, or by their demonstrated expertise in futures, options, technical analysis, or related fields. All recipients have achieved preeminence in their field and are held in high regard by both their peers and the public.

Says Boyer, "It is our mission to provide the greatest selection of trading resources with the best service and greatest value specifically for traders. We realize that our business would not exist were it not for the dedication, commitment, and sacrifice of the recipients of this award and many others who have gone before us and work beside us to grow this industry."

Earning this award puts Fontanills in elite company. Previous winners included: Jack Schwager, Larry McMillan, John Murphy, Sheldon Natenberg, Robert Prechter, James Bittman, and Bernie Schaeffer.

Fontanills was recognized this year for his contributions to options trading and his continued focus on education. As a pioneer in delta neutral trading, he has appeared on radio and television shows all over the country and has been the subject of a number of articles in the Wall Street Journal, Barrons, Research Magazine, CBS MarketWatch, and TheStreet.com. George Fontanills has instructed thousands of traders internationally on his own creative brand of trading including options on indices and options on stocks.
